Fiddler on the Roof... You wouldn't think a musical about poverty, parenthood, hunger and arranged marriages would be the ideal background for one of the most successful musicals ever written - but it is!

Tevye is the father of five daughters, he is a very poor Russian milkman with a wry sense of humour and a hot line to talk to God. He believes in "Tradition" and when his daughters all want to make their own decisions about love and marriage he is challenged. He is also challenged by his straight talking wife.. "Do you love me?" they sing to each other.

There are memorable songs, dance, dreams, heartbreak and happiness all to be found in this superb musical which bring the world of Anatevka to life on stage.

You shouldn't miss it, it will make you laugh, it will make you cry and it will reinforce your belief in life!
